Also, we all know Americans don't tend to vacation unless they have a vacation. I don't really have any problems with the RNG. I have all those 15-20 minute breaks where I can't do anything, but I don't really mind. It's always been an issue with Blizzard, if there was a way to make it feel less like gambling it would be terrific. Also, I like to have choice in my rewards. Again, no complaints, but I like to work and win and have a choice in what I win. If it works the way TOS says, then I would agree with you. But when I tried to cash out after winning a mount, I was told I'd have to buy 5 tickets, and it'd take 3-4 days for the tickets to be verified. I can't believe I'd have to buy tickets to win a vanity item, but that's what they told me.

A prospective, multi-center study was undertaken to evaluate the first 100 total hip arthroplasties performed with a cementless femoral component made of a titanium alloy (Ti-6Al-4V) and a chromium-cobalt alloy (Cr-Co) in place of the typical ceramic femoral head. Charnley type femoral components used with the Wagner-type (Cerafit) acetabular component provided for a 30-month mean follow-up. Preoperative diagnoses included osteoarthritis in 78 of 100 hips and avascular necrosis in 12. Survival at 24 months was 80% for all component combinations and 88% for components with an average thickness of greater than 2.1 mm. Complications occurred in three of the 100 total hip arthroplasties. The results indicate the Ti-6Al-4V alloy possesses sufficient mechanical properties to be successfully used as a femoral component in total hip arthroplasty. After a long hiatus from any research being done, I feel that it is time to get back in the swing of things. I have had plenty of time to teach, get my teaching license, finish up the writing of my last book, finish up my Master's work and even take a few weeks off. But now I am ready to get back to work as a researcher and gain some more data for my dissertation. While I am doing that, I will also
